PATENT ATTORNEY

Sir:

On August 26, 2005 Examiner Shortledge called Applicant's representative to indicate that upon further review of the claims, it was believed that the computer-readable medium language of claims 11, 15, 16 and 17 were directed non-statutory subject matter. The Examiner suggested amending the claims to "computer storage medium" instead of computer-readable medium. Applicant's representative indicated that he had to discuss this with his client. On August 30, 2005, Applicant's representative called Examiner Shortledge and left a message on his voicemail indicating that the proposed Examiner's Amendment to change "computer-readable medium" to "computer storage medium" was acceptable.

Respectfully submitted,
